

demand something different

We listen, think, make and deliver.

Who we are?

Hive Solutions began in 2008, when two former Microsoft employees got together to make a different kind of technology from what the market was providing. After 6 months of initial Research & Development, the project grew with collaborators from companies such as Deloitte and Wipro.

It was also our belief that consulting processes were too expensive and complex, and could benefit from a more pragmatic and objective approach.

We have been, from the start, working on several large R&D projects, where we produced a great deal of technology, all coming together in the form of a business software platform nearly 300.000 lines of code strong.

We created the tools, but also gathered the know-how, through deep research in emerging software technologies.

Now we want to help your business with what we have and with what we know.

These ideas make up Hive Solutions, a new kind of consultancy: agile, results-oriented and deeply technical.

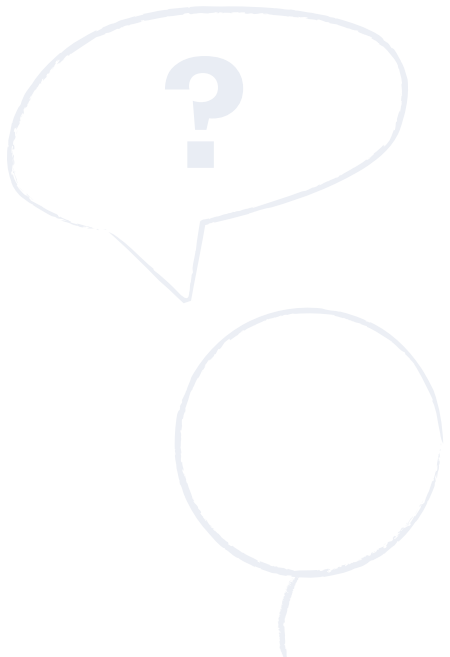

What we do?

Don't you just hate average consulting?

Some say if you're not part of the problem, and you're not part of the solution, there is good money to be made in prolonging the problem with bad consulting.

We are a new generation consultancy: we keep things simple, eliminating unnecessary overhead to get straight to the point. We listen, we think, we make and we deliver.

For us consulting is about being creative, while at the same time, achieving the requirements and objectives proposed by the client.

SOFTWARE AS A SERVICE

Why should you operate a power plant, when all you need is electric power? Should you have to deploy, manage and update all the systems you use? Why not just use what you really need, the software!

Software as a Service (SaaS) is based on the belief that IT shouldn't be a burden, but rather a precious utility. Whether you want to reduce the strain on your IT staff, or maybe just get access to top business software without the need for an IT department, SaaS may be the way to go.

Here at Hive Solutions we have people who know the players in the market, and can help you pick and adapt the best solution for your specific needs. Bear in mind that SaaS is not a silver bullet, and that we can help you understand if it truly fits your needs.

ON THE MOVE...

Does your team need to be on the move? Do your systems keep up with pace? Mobile applications have seen tremendous growth both in consumer and the enterprise markets, and why is that? Because we move!

A lot of people really need to move around to get things done, but still lack the support of the information systems they leave at the office.

Things don't have to be this way. We, at Hive Solutions, can help you create applications that help you provide your mobile workforce with the resources they need to do their job.

We believe mobile applications are about making the best out of your time, about not losing opportunities, about being connected to the world at any time and even about enabling automation of tasks for which classical desktop application just can't cut it: think about inventory stock counts, for instance.

IN THE CLOUD...

Managing infrastructures is complicated. It requires time, non-trivial skills and internal discipline. If you are still managing all your computer resources today, you should benefit from looking at alternatives for hosting and operating your systems.

Hive Solutions is a Software as a Service (SaaS) company and a Cloud Computing company: we operate the Omni platform and know what it takes to deploy a system on the cloud.

We can help you understand which infrastructure provider is best for you, and help your enter the Cloud Computing era before your competitors.
